

The first longitudinal study of match injuries in elite female rugby union: A 6-season review involving 13 680 match play hours

Lindsay T Starling¹, Niki Gabb¹, Sean Williams¹, Simon Kemp², Keith A Stokes^{1,2}

1. Department for Health University of Bath, Bath, UK
2. Medical Services, Rugby Football Union, London, UK

Corresponding author:

Professor Keith A Stokes

Department for Health, University of Bath, Bath, UK

k.stokes@bath.ac.uk

Figure S1: Incidence of lower limb injuries as a function of injury type.